*As we begin week 3 of distance learning the theme will be Easter. The letter of the week will be Vv and our math notebook number, which continues to help identify numbers and the quantities that go with it, will be 17. We will also continue reviewing the range of numbers between 0-20. The pattern for the month of April will continue to be ABC, three things in a repetitive order (ie: red, blue, yellow...). In religion, the bible story “The Story of Easter” will be repeated and there is a preschool resurrection egg activity also available to use with the video. The video link to watch this will again be attached. Skill pages needed for daily activities, listed on the above calendar, are attached along with additional practice pages should you so choose. Suggestions for games, hands on, and art activities are also included in the attachments. The Scholastic Learn At Home and ABC Mouse websites, for those who would still like to access these, can always be found on my QAS website. On-line with Ms. Kim will also be available through a link sent separately during the week.

Please feel free to print what you would like from the variety and categories below:
